While everything else is going up Tungsten Lamps are coming down. The quality is also better, they last longer and are less fragile.

While the service is bad and voltage often low, until the new plant starts, Tungstens will take less current, give more light and help us by reducing the load. Remember that these lamps consume only 1 1-4 Watts per candle.
The common lamp requires 3 1-2.

	New price	Old price
20 candle Tungsten lamp	.75	$1.00
32 candle Tungsten lamp	1.00	1.25
50 candle Tungsten lamp	1.25	1.50
80 candle Tungsten lamp	1.50	1.75
120 candle Tungsten lamp	2.00	2.50
200 candle Tungsten lamp	3.00	3.50

Resolution of Respect.

Whereas, the Great Builder in his all-wise plans has been pleased to call into another state of being the husband of our beloved sister, Mrs. A. M.
Clinkscales.

Resolved, that though we are sad, and cannot understand why these great dispensations, still we have full faith in the Great Master, and know He "doeth all things well," and we humbly submit to His will and guidance, trusting that when mortal life is ended and when that Great Light is breaking in the East, she may be permitted to rejoin her beloved husband, and with him enjoy the grandeur of that better home in the sunnier land.

Resolved, that we, the Home Mission Society, do sincerely sympathize with her in her great loss, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent her; also that a copy be spread on the Society's book.

William Macauley in "Classmates."

The savage realism in the play, "Classmates" direct from the Hudson Theatre, New York, in which William Macauley will appear at the Auditorium tonight, very nearly caused the ringing down of the curtain on an unfinished act the other night. In the third scene Duncan Irving penetrates the South American jungle a thousand miles up the Amazon, in search of his rival, Bert Stafford, whom he has sworn to find and bring back to his sweetheart. Stafford is found by the rescuing party, but the members of the party are lost themselves. Duncan Irving has in his canteen a drop of brandy left, which he intends to give to the dying man. One of his own party demands it and rather than see him have it the two famished men struggle for the bottle and end by drawing knives. On the night in question a woman in the audience had watched the play with intense interest up to this point, and when she saw the knives, rose from her seat, screamed and fainted. It seems that her husband had been lost and found and killed in this same manner in an African jungle two years ago, and this reduplication of his death was too much for her overwrought nerves. A physician happened to be in the theatre the hysterical lady was finally quieted and the scene went on, but an added horror was given to the scene that the actors in it will not soon forget.
